

Exhibition of photographs by students of the Academy of Dramatic Art at Erste Club caffe

Zagreb, October 22, 2009 – An exhibition of photographs by students of the Academy of Dramatic Art was put up at the Erste Club caffe at the Erste Business Center in Zagreb. Conceptualized as an overview of the photographic works produced by academy students in the course of the year, the exhibition offers the wider public an insight into the works of young artists, students of the academy's Photography Department attending various years of study. Some of the photographs are exhibited at the Erste Club caffe, while another part is presented as a video projection.

This exhibition of photographs by students of the Academy of Dramatic Art is yet another exhibition put up by Erste Bank, in cooperation with young artists, at the Erste Club caffe. Thus visitors and bank employees have so far had the chance to see photo exhibitions with the following titles this year: "Kockice života" by Tina Žaknić, followed by an exhibition of photographs called "Terenska nastava na krovu svijeta" (Field lessons on the roof of the world) by students of the Faculty of Humanity and Arts in Zagreb and the photo exhibition "James Bond Girl Show by Marinshe" by Marina Filipović, which was organized in cooperation with Algoritam.

The link between art and Erste Bank is based on the bank's business strategy in terms of sponsorships and donations, which is closely linked to culture and the young. Following this strategy, Erste Bank organizes exhibitions at the Erste Club caffe, where young artists are given an opportunity to establish their place in the art world, while visitors and employees of the bank are given insight into works by young domestic artists. With its interior and offer the Erste Club caffe is the ideal place for meetings and gatherings and the relaxed atmosphere of this place is made even more complete with exhibitions, while visitors are given the opportunity to enjoy a special artistic experience.
